Certification Preparation Course

SUCCEED IN PLAN REVIEW WITH REDA HAZARD CONTROL

INTRODUCTION

Ready to become a fire safety plan review expert? The Certified Fire Plan Examiner (CFPE) certification validates your ability to assess building plans and ensure compliance. REDA Hazard Control provides expert-led training for this NFPA and ProBoard-accredited credential. Join professionals on your path to mastering this skill!

WHY CFPE?

- Professional Standard: Based on NFPA 1031, CFPE certifies your plan examination expertise, recognized by AHJs and industry leaders.
- Career Growth: Qualifies you for advanced roles in fire prevention, code enforcement, and building safety, enhancing your professional credibility.
- Key Skills: Master NFPA 1 (Fire Code), 13 (Sprinklers), 72 (Alarms), and 101 (Life Safety) to evaluate plans for egress, fire protection systems, and occupant safety.

WHAT REDA OFFERS

- In-Depth Training: Covers NFPA 1031's plan examiner job performance requirements, including site plan analysis, egress design, and fire system layouts.
- Expert-Led Sessions: Live, interactive classes with REDA's experienced instructors, featuring real-world plan review examples and detailed feedback.
- Practice Exams: Full-length, 100-question mock tests replicating the 2-hour NFPA exam, with additional exercises for practical plan review skills.
- Resources: Includes digital NFPA code references, sample building plans, and instructor-led Q&A to ensure thorough preparation.

STEPS TO SUCCESS

1. Eligibility: Requires 2 years of education or training post-high school, or 2+ years of plan review/fire inspection experience—no specific degree needed.
2. Enroll: Register with REDA Hazard Control for a program starting monthly, designed with flexible scheduling for working professionals.
3. Pass: Succeed in the 2-hour, 100-question exam (70% passing score) through REDA's targeted training, administered at NFPA testing centers.
4. Certify: Earn your CFPE credential, ProBoard-registered, and become a trusted expert in fire plan examination. Leadership roles in fire inspection and prevention.
